Highlighting Seoul’s historic past, he indicated that in addition to having emerged as a global capital city ranked amongst the top ten financial centers in the world, Seoul had evolved as a model city for urban planning and management. He observed that the UN habitat attached significant importance to the role of the APMCHUD in guiding the developmental activities in housing and urban development in an organized and sustainable manner in the region. This was reflected by the participation of UN-HABITAT in all the Conferences and Bureau meetings of APMCHUD by UN-HABITAT.
Dr Makandey Rai highlighted that the APMCHUD in its first conference at Delhi in 2006 had evolved a vision for housing and urban development in the Asia Pacific Region. In 2008, at Tehran it had evolved an action plan, and at Solo in 2010 moved towards efforts for realization. He indicated that with a committed leadership, a dynamic Bureau and an active Secretariat, it should be possible to move forward towards achieving the objectives of APMCHUD. In this context, he observed that finalizing the methodology of funding of the initiatives of APMCHUD on an appropriate scale, and strengthening of Secretariat to undertake and effectively coordinate its activities would be important. He also expressed appreciation that these issues have already been enlisted for consideration in the forthcoming conference of APMCHUD.

Dr Markandey Rai stated that while the Asia Pacific region faced major challenges in the form of slums, urban poverty, etc, it has also demonstrated that these problems could be effectively tackled through appropriate policies and programs, innovation and collaboration. The region had thrown up a number of best practices for appropriate adoption and adaption, and the APMCHUD can play a very significant role in disseminating these to member countries. A large number of innovative approaches in respect of disaster mitigation and management, urban and rural planning, land policies, slum upgradation and management, funding mechanisms have been pioneered in the recent past and the member countries could draw upon these for wider replication.

Affirming that the UN-HABITAT would extend all possible assistance for the successful organization of the forthcoming 4th APMCHUD Conference in Jordan, he suggested that selection of an appropriate theme would be important. Given that ‘youth’ were emerging as an important theme in the context of emerging demographic scenario in many countries, particularly in the Asia Pacific region; the issues of how to engage them in a sustainable manner in the field of housing and urban development could be a relevant theme for consideration for the forthcoming Conference in Jordan. A theme on the lines of ‘Youth Empowerment for Sustainable housing and Urban Development’ could be examined as an appropriate theme. He also extended an invitation on behalf of the UN-HABITAT to all member countries to participate in the World Urban Forum scheduled in Naples in September, 2012 and particularly in the Ministerial Round Table and Round Table of Parliamentarians.

Item No. 7: Any other Item with the permission of the Chair

a) Holding of the last Bureau meeting in the same country that would host the next Main APMCHUD Conference: In regard to the practice of holding the last Bureau meeting in the same country where the Main Conference of the APMCHUD is proposed to be held, the Hon'ble Minister HE Mr Ali Nikzad, Islamic Republic of Iran indicated that it may not be necessary to burden the host country of the main Conference by holding the last meeting of the Bureau also in the same country in advance of the Conference, and felt that this could be held in any other country as well. After deliberations it was felt that holding of the last Bureau meeting in the same country of next APMCHUD main Conference provides the opportunity to review the preparations for the Conference and this may help the host country for seeking any guidance and cooperation from the Bureau members, if necessary, and accordingly decided that this pattern may continue.

b) Possibility of another Secretariat in the country of Chair of the APMCHUD: HE Mr. Sri Hartoyo, member from the Republic of Indonesia indicated that towards helping the Permanent Secretariat it may be worthwhile to consider the possibility of having a support system at the Chair of the APMCHUD.
